THE OPENING PROCEEDINGS AT EPIPHANY CHURCH TO-DAY.

The 103d annual convention of the diocese of Maryland, composed of parishes in the District of Columbia and the state of Maryland, with the exception of the Eastern Shore, met this morning at Epiphany church. The convention was opened with morning prayer, which was said by Bishop Paret, assisted by Rev. P. N. Meade and Rev. Samuel H. Giesy. The sermon before the convention was preached by Rev. J. Houston Eccleston, D. D., the rector of Emanuel church, Baltimore. The holy communion was administered at the close The Speaker laid before the House a letter of the sermon by the bishop, assisted by the clergymen mentioned above.

THE BUSINESS SESSION. After divine service, which continued until after 12 o'clock, Bishop Paret called the convention to order. There was a large attendance of making way for the oleomargarine bill the of the clerical and lay delegates, nearly the full representation from both orders being present. In addition the church was well filled with visitors, who were present to witness the pro-ceedings. Bishop Paret occupied a high-backed chair in the center of the church, and in front of him was a small table. The roll of delegates was called by the secretary of the last convention, Mr. Joseph Packard, jr.

A quorum of both orders being present, the being closed.

Mr. Hatch (Mo.), in speaking to a formal amendment, sent to the clerk's desk and had bishop declared the convention duly organized and ready for business, and that the first busi-ness was the election of a secretary. Mr. Joseph Packard, jr., was nominated, but he declined on account of his business engagements, and Rev. Peregrine Wroth being nominated, he was unanimously elected. The bishop appointed Rev. John T. on territories to-day in advocacy of the right of Alaska to a full territorial form of government, with the right of ownership of land. Mr. Elliott, representing the Alaska Commercial company, opposed the proposition, taking the ground that the majority of the inhabitants were Indians and uneducated. He too, however, desired the privilege of owning land. IMPORTANT REPORTS TO BE CONSIDERED. Two important reports are to be made to the convention. The first is by the committee on the proposed changes in the Book of Common Prayer. This committee was originally appointed in 1884, and to it were reierred the proposed changes approved by the General Convention of 1883. The committee, of which Rev. Frederick Gibson is chairman, is unanimously in favor of an enrichment of the prayer book and of an allowed flexibility in its use. But, although in the main approving of many alterations, it considers that many of the new rubrics and prayers need correction that they may harmonize with the precise and venerable language of the old Book of Common Prayer. Another interesting matter to be considered is the report of a special committee appointed last year to consider the plan of establishing a high school for colored youth in Baltimore. An important matter will be the election, to-morrow, of the four cierical and four lay deputies to the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, which will meet in Chicago, Ill., on October 6th next. The deputies are chosen by a majority of the lay delegates and of the ciergy of the diocess. Other important matters before the convention will be the election of the standing committee and the plan of an accumulating episcopal fund, which Bishop Paret will set before the conventhe proposed changes in the Book of Common

WASHINGTON SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY, will be held for private sale till October next, when, if not sooner disposed of, it will be entered at the projected great Art Sale in New York.

The price is placed at $40,000, $5,500 less than the painting of the "Communicants" sold for at auction in New York last winter.

The great interest taken in this picture by soldier and their relatives, very few of whom have not had some relative under the command of or in battle with some of the officers there portrayed four great cities of the Union would yield in one year enough by its exhibition to relmburse the cost of its purchase.

The canvas is 10 by 15 feet, and contains the likeness of Grant and 27 of his Generals, each represented in the precise clothing, bats and accourtements as worn in the field in 1864. Only 11 of the 27 are now living. Their original likenesses can never be grouped together again on any canvas.

Grant, Hancock, Mende and Custer left behind them their written approbation of the painting. The criticism of the latter a model of conciseness and verity. He wrote on March 29, 1876: "I cannot find terms to express my admiration of Mr. Bailing's war picture. The likenesses are accurate and lifelike: the positions are well chosen. Certainly nothing of the kind has been produced which compares with it in excellence.
